

Tuesday, July 27, 2010

The Argus – Serving Skagit Valley since 1891

Skagit Publishing Company, Burlington WA

---

Burlington teen to play at elite baseball tourney

Collin Quilliam, 16, of Burlington is fresh off the American Legion A District Tournament, where his Burlington Sox won the title on July 19. Quilliam was named the Most Valuable Player.

Now Quilliam, the son of Jon and Shelby Quilliam, will attend the 2010 USSSA All-American Games Aug. 6-8 at the Houston Astros' spring training facility, the Osceola Sports Complex in Kissimmee, Fla.

The Amateur Baseball Report, developed to help youths find out how their talent measures up nationally, invited Quilliam to the games. He will be competing with other top prospects from around the country, family friend Brad Clure told The Argus.

Find out more about Amateur Baseball Report and the Games at www.amateurbaseballreport.com

- Argus staff

---